

A photograph of a grand, historic library. A prominent wooden spiral staircase with a dark metal railing winds upwards from the ground floor to a mezzanine level. The walls are lined with tall, dark wood bookshelves filled with numerous books. The floor is made of polished wood with a geometric pattern. The ceiling features ornate architectural details, including a large circular medallion above the staircase.

Les écrits de jeunesse de Napoléon

SAMEDI 20 SEPTEMBRE | 10h30

par Rémi Touzeau

Auditorium | Médiathèque de Châteauroux

Le Souvenir
napoléonien

Société française d'histoire napoléonienne